AlphaOne Capital Partners (“AlphaOne”) is pleased to announce that the Fundamental Micro Cap, Small Cap and Small Growth investment team from OFI Institutional Asset Management has joined AlphaOne effective September 1, 2009. The addition of this experienced and highly regarded investment team provides AlphaOne’s clients with a broad range of micro and small-cap investment solutions with a proven track record. As of September 1, 2009, the Fundamental Micro/Small Cap investment team manages portfolio assets in excess of $315 million from AlphaOne’s offices in the Boston metropolitan area.

Paul J. Hondros, President and Chief Executive Officer for AlphaOne, commented, “I am confident that this team will meet the expectations of our clients. It will complement AlphaOne’s existing capabilities and allow the investment team to continue to build on their success. AlphaOne is focused on managing specialty investment and we pride ourselves on the knowledge and pedigree of our investment professionals.” Product offerings currently include hedge funds managed by award winning managers Dan Niles and John Herrlin. Hondros further states, “ It is important to note that even though the Fundamental Micro and Small Cap investment team has now moved to its new home at AlphaOne, its investment goals and philosophy remain unchanged. All the members of the investment team have joined AlphaOne and remain committed to the intensive, bottom-up, fundamental research that forms the backbone of the team’s strategy.”

We look forward to working with our clients and consultant contacts to provide both an optimal product strategy and exceptional client support. If you have any questions about this transition, or about AlphaOne, please feel free to contact Paul Hondros at any time at 1-267-597-3800
